New Year Finance Check-In

The start of a new year is a great time to take stock of your finances and make a plan for the year ahead. Here are a few tips for checking in on your finances:

- Review your budget: Take a look at your income and expenses from the previous year and see if you need to make any adjustments to your budget. This could include cutting back on unnecessary expenses or finding ways to increase your income.
- Set financial goals: Think about what you want to achieve financially in the coming year. Do you want to save for a down payment on a house, pay off credit card debt, or build up your emergency savings? Setting specific goals will help you stay motivated and on track.
- Check your credit report: It's important to keep an eye on your credit report to make sure there are no errors or fraudulent activity. You can request a free copy of your credit report from each of the three major credit bureaus (Equifax, Experian, and TransUnion) once per year.
- Evaluate your investments: If you have investments, such as a 401(k) or IRA, now is a good time to review your portfolio and make sure it's still aligned with your financial goals. This could involve rebalancing your portfolio or making changes to your investment mix.

By taking the time to check in on your finances, you can set yourself up for financial success in the new year. MCCU offers free financial wellness coaching for all members!

Board Member Spotlight

As we kick off 2023, I wanted to take a moment to express my gratitude for the privilege of serving on the board of this credit union for over 20 years. It has been an honor to be a part of such a dedicated and supportive community, and I am proud to have played a role in our continued growth and success.

As we begin a new year, it's important to take stock of our finances and make sure we are on track to achieving our goals. I encourage each and every one of you to take some time to review your budget, check your credit score, and make a plan for managing your money in the months ahead. If you need any assistance or guidance, please don't hesitate to reach out to our team. Together, we can make this year our best yet!
